FOREWORD

In the book, we follow the spirit of the times, which will be relevant and conciseness to keep the attention of our readers to read a book and then use it whenever they need it as a manual. This book is written using examples from e-banking, which does not mean that it cannot be used by all those who are engaged in science or intend to do so, because the principles of evaluation and publication of results are common to all sciences and banks. The purpose of the book is to help e-banking users to overcome complex and demanding issues in the field of banking, but also to serve them as a basis for the study of matter. Changes have been made to the scope of individual chapters, the book contains an eternal calendar with with the aim of building the concept of strategic in e-banking management. They helped me a lot in writing this book 2. and 3. author, who encouraged me to complete this project. First of all, I would like to thank the 3rd author I. Mičić - B.Sc. ecc master, na a series of useful data related to the subject matter of this book considers, then Professor Z. Rajić, 2nd author of this manuscript, on a number of useful suggestions, as well as on the review, as well as others G. Shouts, for help with the technical preparation of the manuscript. Too, I express my gratitude to my wife Ljubinka, grandson Mateja and children Mary and Mark in support during the making of this book.
